ENTRY FORM

RULES OF THE COMPETITION

1. Diners Club is the principal sponsor of the Winelist Awards. Please direct all correspondence to winelist@dinersclub.co.za.
2. Diners Club is responsible for the organisation and administration of the awards, It's decisions regarding the intent, application and interpretation of the rules is final.
3. Participation confirms unconditional acceptance and agreement to follow these rules.
4. Should any participant as defined in (3) above suffer loss of any kind and for whatever reason as a result of such participation, such as expenses or liabilities resulting there from, these shall be for his own account and any right to claim against Diners Club is automatically waived through the act of participation.
5. Diners Club reserves the right to alter, amend or cancel all or parts of these rules at any stage between the announcement of the results and the issuing of entry forms for the following year's Awards. The right is also reserved to disqualify entries in the interest of eliminating artificial advantage (e.g. a proprietor using reserve stocks common to more than one restaurant so that entries for each restaurant are submitted in one or more categories).
6. The results of judging by appointed independent specialists shall be final and no discussion or communication regarding results will be entered into by Diners Club or its agents.
7. Winners of the Awards undertake to prominently display the Diners Club Winelist award in their establishment. Stickers and decals are given out with the awards, and are to be used at the winners' discretion. Should we find that you are displaying the certificate and do not accept the Diners Club Card for payment, we have the right to ask you to remove the certificate that is displayed.
8. Please note that entrants may at any time be visited to assess the accuracy of the wine list submitted for this competition. If the list in use is substantially different to the list submitted, this may be cause for disqualification or rescindment of the award.
9. Restaurants are to offer Diners Club members an exclusive offer for an agreed period.
10. Restaurants should submit a hi res logo and profile of their chef and barista when entering the competition along with pictures of the establishment and signature dishes as we may use these from time to time in our marketing/communications material and channels.
11. Restaurants need to be merchants of Diners Club and should a Diners Club member want to pay using their Diners Club card, the restaurant is obligated to take their card.

DINERS CLUB WINELIST AWARD CRITERIA

Thank you for your interest in the Diners Club Winelist awards which for more than two decades has been a symbol endorsing the best wine lists in South Africa.

The following explains what we look for when judging.

Please note:

A general note on listing wine vintages with wines:

- We accept that changes to vintages may occur without your prior knowledge.
- We will accept a rider to a list that carries wine vintages which says “subject to availability” or “subject to vintage change” but a list needs to be set out with the display of wine-specific vintages as the default.
- We will not accept “2014/15” as an example of vintage identification, as the wine’s description should change per vintage.

SILVER

Your wine list could achieve a Silver Award if:

You enter a wine list with very few wines and representing very few categories in a list that falls below the standards set for a Gold Award.

GOLD

Your wine list could achieve a Gold Award if:

- It contains a reasonable range of wine categories to showcase most and/or the major styles.
- It contains an adequate number of wines per category for the type of establishment. We assess restaurants as either casual, smart-casual, or sophisticated, depending on menu, ambience, position and modulate expectations accordingly.
- It contains good content, which means respected examples of quality wines in each category.
- There are a fair number of wines by the glass offered; or from at least the main categories/styles.
- Wines are described for the diner with adequate tasting notes.
- Please indicate all Platter’s by Diners Club SA award winning wines.

Note:

- A Gold Award wine list need not carry the vintage of every wine.
- A Gold Award wine list need not offer wine and food pairings.
- A Gold Award wine list need not have a “reserve” or vintage section.
- Your list need not explain which regions the wine comes from (wine of origin) but this will help ensure Gold status.

DINERS CLUB WINELIST AWARD CRITERIA

PLATINUM

Your wine list could achieve a Platinum Award if:

It meets all the requirements of a Gold list and in addition -

- It displays the individual wines' vintages throughout (please refer to the note on vintages at the beginning of these criteria; no "split" vintages).
- It contains a very good range of wine categories to showcase all the major styles, as well as other (minor) categories.
- It contains an adequate number of wines per category for the type of establishment (see note at the end).
- The list contains very good wines in all/most categories.
- The list contains interesting and newer producers and wines.
- The list contains a good number of wines by the glass from multiple categories/styles.
- The list contains wines at varied price points to offer value throughout wine categories.
- The list carries informative wine descriptions that go beyond a "copy and paste" from back label wine notes or distributors' information, or those offered by a wine steward/sommelier.
- The list carries food and wine pairings and these go beyond standard "fish with sauvignon blanc" ideas and link your menu items to the wines on your list.
- Your list explains which regions the wine comes from (wine of origin).
- Please indicate all Platter's by Diners Club SA award winning wines.

Note:

- A Platinum list needs to carry accurate vintages (please see vintages note at beginning of criteria).
- A Platinum Award wine list need not have a "reserve" list but this will help attain Platinum status.
- A Platinum Award wine list need not have foreign wines but this will help to achieve Platinum status,

DINERS CLUB WINELIST AWARD CRITERIA

DIAMOND

Your wine list could achieve a Diamond Award if:

It meets all the requirements of a Platinum list and in addition -

- It displays the individual wines' vintages throughout. (please refer to the note on vintages at the beginning of these criteria; no "split" vintages).
- It contains an adequate number of wines per category for the type of establishment (see note at end);
- The list contains excellent wines in all/most categories and at varied price points.
- The list clearly contains exciting new wines along with classic labels.
- It contains a reserve/select list of aged wines.
- The list contains numerous and interesting wines by the glass, representing many of the wine categories and from multiple producers.
- It offers very good, personalised, and/or informative wine descriptions, or the restaurant has an accredited and verified sommelier team.
- The list (or the wine stewards/sommeliers) is able to offer personalised food and wine pairings.
- The list is free of notable errors in information.
- Your list explains which regions the wine comes from (wine of origin).
- The list has contents and/or an index to aid navigation; or navigation is made easy for the diner.
- Please indicate all Platter's by Diners Club SA award winning wines.

Note:

- A Diamond wine list needs to carry accurate vintages.
- A Diamond wine list will ideally have some representation of foreign wines and certainly carry vintage or "reserve" wines.
- A Diamond Award wine list should offer wines in a variety of bottle sizes/formats.
- A Diamond Award wine list should clearly explain its corkage policy, if any.

ICON

Your wine list could achieve an Icon Award if:

It meets all the requirements of a Diamond list and in addition -

- It carries an extensive international selection with good wines in multiple categories and/or from multiple countries (in other words not just a nominal selection).
- It contains an impressive reserve/vintage selection that displays a real interest in wine curation.
- It contains "flights" of particular wines.
- It displays a very significant interest in wine of the highest quality.
- It is free of errors in information.
- A sommelier is used by default.
- It represents a list of international stature.
- Please indicate all Platter's by Diners Club SA award winning wines.
